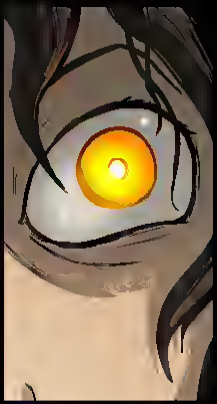
THE SWORD INTERVAL

BY BEN FLEUTER

I don't remember how I got there. Maybe I slept through it all. But then, maybe not. I just remember waking up across the country, at Atlas's HQ.

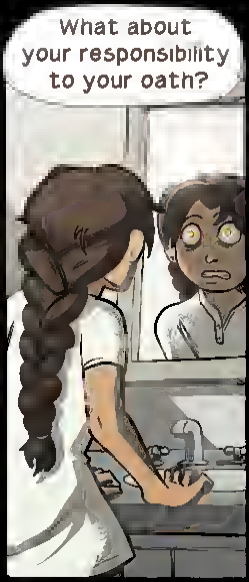


You aren't giving her to her uncle?

We aren't even telling surviving family she's alive. It would be too dangerous for everyone.

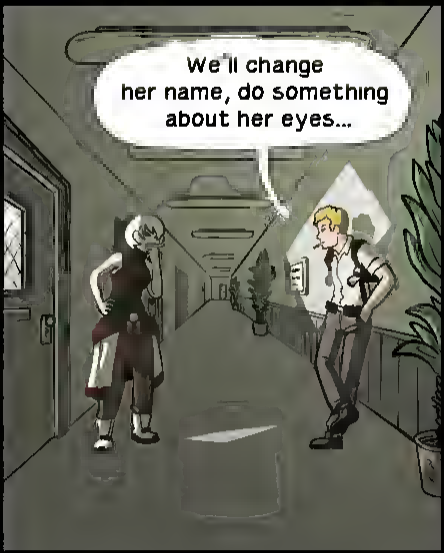
Please,... don't do this to her.
Let me take her. Marina and Zach were my friends. The mission was my responsibility.

Do you honestly think that's a good idea, Ms. Ivanova?



What about your responsibility to your oath?

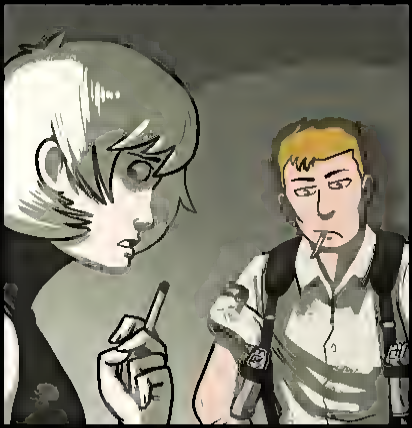
Once it's deemed safe to let her back into the world, she will be placed under our witness protection program.



We'll change her name, do something about her eyes...

Just keep her on the move until...

krrr



...until this Hierophant business is sorted...
Oh Fail...

I'll fetch the doc
